Promised Theater Attractions

Poll—"The Girl from Out Yonder."
"The Girl from Out Yonder," will be the attraction of the Poll Players next week beginning Monday night. Possessing all the finer elements that go to make up a really successful play unusually strong in point of dramatic construction, interspersed with a rich and irresistible vein of pure, humorous comedy, it grips the audience from the rise of the first curtain until the fall of the last.

Robert W. Fraser, the Poll Players' leading man, and all the other favorites of the organization, have characterized in preparation that the Poll patrons will enjoy to the fullest. Beginning next Monday night Manager Fraser has arranged for between act dances in the lobby of the theater as well as on the top deck of the porch. Both the lobby and the porch overlook the White House grounds and provide a wonderfully interesting place for such ceremonies. The same program will be followed at matinees.

B. F. Keith's—Vaudeville.
Two stellar attractions, representing very different spheres, Ida Brooks Hunt, Alfred de Manby and company, and Winston's Water Lions and Diving Nymphs, will headline an unusually brilliant array of melody and mirth at B. F. Keith's Theater next week. Ida Brooks Hunt and Alfred de Manby, with George Halperin at the piano will present "A Fantasy of Melodies." The Winston aquatic novel present fair divers and their funny rivals who duplicated the feats of the feminine contestants.

The extra added feature comprises Billie Montgomery, formerly of Montgomery and Moore, and George Perry, late of Perry and White, as "Two Bachelors of Art."

Other numbers of high repute are Ivan Bankoff and Lola Gilie in a series of original dance delights; Sylvia Bronson and Winnie Baldwin, of "So Long, Letty," in "A 1917 Songology." Nelson Waring announced as "A Man and a Piano." Duffy and Daisy in fun and frolics wheel and in Arabian, somersaulting; Sylvia Loyal and "Pierrot" and the seventy pigeons; the pipe organ recitals and the Hearst-Pathé news pictorial.

Cosmos—"Senator" Francis Murphy.
Lead patrons of high-class vaudeville will be able the latter half of this week, beginning today, to hear at the Cosmos Theater, for the first time at popular vaudeville prices, "Senator" Francis Murphy, a celebrity of the big circuits, and the monologues that have made him famous in the theatrical world. Lovers of fine music will probably find in the repertoire of "Senator" a master pianist, who also ranks high in profession, something not often heard except in the big concert or musical, Richard La Salle, a stock actor of note, will present Hillard Booth's new famous little playlet, "Room 909," the Baraban-Mathey Trio, a singing and dancing number of real class; Victor Burns and Miriam Quinn, "The Untrained Nurse," an amusing travesty; Mon and Alton, a clever singing novelty, and the

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Three Regals, an imposing exhibition of feats of endurance and strength. Pesky Hyland, the English actor, will be the picture star in "The Sixteenth Wife." Charlie Chaplin will furnish the film comedy, "The Count," and the war section of the Hearst-Pathé news pictorial will picture the arrival of Gen. Pershing and his staff in France.

Sunday performances will start at 3 p. m. and present all the foregoing attractions of the vaudeville bill.

Loew's Columbia—Mary Pickford.
What is described as the first of the intimate war photoplays will be disclosed to Washington theatergoers next Sunday at Loew's Columbia Theater. It "The Little American," a film story that pictures Mary Pickford in the title role and which was given a private showing last Sunday before Washington officials, representatives of the press and members of the House and Senate.

For purposes of the story the author of the photoplay has confined his film to a bundle of love and romance, a general pictorial study of war. This very fact gives the new patriotic screen offering qualities of realism and forceful appeal to the imagination of American theatergoers which have been lacking in former pictorial war stories. One of the important episodes, however, depicts the torpedoing of the ocean liner selected by the Washington girl for her trip to France. The photoplay was written by Jeanie Macpherson and was filmed under the direction of Cecil B. De Mille.

Moore's Garden—Earle Williams.
Earle Williams heads the bill at Moore's Garden Theater next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in a stirring detective romance, "The Maelstrom." A wealthy young clubman while out walking one day is suddenly confronted by a woman who thrusts a bundle into his hand and quickly vanishes in the fog. Seeking adventure, the young man attempts to deliver the package to an address written upon it. It takes him to a somber house with draw shades. Hardly is he inside the house of mystery when the package is snatched from his grasp and he is felled by a blow on his head. When he recovers consciousness he finds that a safe in the room has been rifled, and on the floor the body of an aged man, murdered. The old man is a mystery that he sets out to solve.

This piece is full of many thrilling and dramatic scenes and Mr. Williams ably interprets the role of the young clubman.

Moore's Strand—Strategic Barriscale.
Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the popular film star, Beattie Barriscale, will be pictured in a delightful tale of the mountain folk, entitled "Bawba's Blue Ridge." The story depicts a romance of the Virginia mountains in which a writer from Yankee land wins the heart of the mountain maid after some quaint adventures in the wild and romantic region.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

SAY 8,000 EMPLOYEES SHOULD BE RETIRED

Speakers Before Senate Committee Urge Government Pensions.

Preliminary to the introduction into Congress of a bill to provide pensions and retirement for aged civil employees of the government, hearings will be resumed at 9:30 o'clock this morning, before the Senate Committee on Civil Service.

Some two score government employees are still to be heard. The hearings were begun yesterday morning with Senator McKellar, chairman, presiding. The hearings were arranged by the joint Civil Service Retirement Committee, of which Robert H. Alcorn is chairman.

Those who are scheduled to appear before the committee today are: H. T. Finnan, M. F. O'Donoghue, Willard F. Warner, L. P. Tade, Lewis Meriam, Jos. M. Tade, Geo. Hagan, Geo. McNab, William T. Harris, Edmund Murphy, Arthur Holder, J. D. Evans, Jacob W. Starr, D. W. Beach, D. W. Edekin, R. H. Alcorn, J. W. McConnell, C. Eder Reed, F. W. Lee, W. H. Smoot, Daniel Goldschmidt, Llewellyn Jordan, H. M. McLaughlin, N. P. Alfias, John S. Beach, W. C. Ryan, Thomas E. Fisher, Miss Florence Etheridge, Mrs. R. G. De Haven, Mrs. Jennie L. Munroe, W. A. Smith and Hugh O'Connor.

Of about 20,000 employees in the government classified service, only 8,000 are now deserving of retirement, according to Herbert D. Brown, government retirement expert. These figures were presented yesterday to the committee.

The committee's attention was directed, too, to the fact that the Democratic party committed itself to the legislation in its platform. Daniel Goldschmidt, president of the United States Civil Service Retirement Association, and J. W. McConnell were the first speakers. Edward Murphy, of the Postoffice Department; Arthur E. Holder, of the American Federation of Labor, and Mrs. Ruth Havens, of the office of the auditor for the Navy Department, addressed the committee.

SAYS ENGLISH GIRLS MAY WIN SAMMIES

Liverpool Newspaper Predicts Inter-marriage as Result of War.

Liverpool, July 11.—Speculating editorially on whether the men of the American army will marry English wives to any appreciable extent, the Liverpool Post says:

"Will American men marry here? We wonder if the coming of the American army will have any effect upon the matrimonial prospects of our girls. For some reason, the men of the New World have hitherto never shown any great eagerness to take wives from the Old, and even the theory that this is because it has not been the way of the American man to cross the Atlantic, though it is consoling to our national vanity, does not explain it. It is noticeable that the Canadians, who have abounded in our midst during the past three years, are not nearly as fond of marrying into this country as are, for example, the Austrians."

"Few of the young men from Australia seem to want to return home without English brides, but the Canadians either are married when they come or show a disposition to remain single."

"Still, there is no need for the girls to despair yet, and if some of them do not spend their lives as matrons in the United States, we shall be surprised. Certainly it will not be their fault, as they show a most amiable desire to like any of the American naval and military and medical men they have seen, although in some cases the fellow citizens of President Wilson are so curiously unlike our own men."

Named to Talk Economics To Women on Food Saving

Because he speaks the language of the woman in the home and also because he is the greatest American nutrition expert, Dr. E. V. McCollum, of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, a member of the advisory committee on the food conservation section of the food administration, was requested to give his voluntary services to the food conservation section of the food administration.

Dr. McCollum arrived at headquarters yesterday and started work on a series of short articles to be placed in the hands of home-makers. These will cover the phases on what to eat during the war, what constitutes an adequate diet, the dietary properties of our natural foodstuffs and what errors are now being made in the human diet.

Dr. McCollum has been recently appointed head of the department of human nutrition for the Welch School of Public Health and Hygiene at Johns Hopkins, Baltimore.

Two Have Same Name.

By a strange coincidence there will be two people in the same family with the same name. Justice Siddons yesterday legalized the adoption of Margaret Lee O'Donnel by Isaac K. and Margaret Lee Oakley, who reside at the Burlington. Miss O'Donnel is 17 years of age and is a half-sister of Mrs. Oakley. The court allows her to take the name of Margaret Lee Oakley.

For blowing two soap bubbles at once, one within the other, a pipe has been patented.

Seven graduates of medical schools, all candidates for licenses to practice medicine or surgery in the District, began taking their examinations in the District Council of Defense chamber yesterday afternoon. The examinations are in charge of the District Board of Medical Examiners, and will continue for three days.

I am glad to join in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the Food Administrator in the conduct of my household, insofar as my circumstances permit.

There are no fees or dues to be paid. The Food Administration wishes to have as members all of those actually handling food in the home.

DIRECTIONS.
Mail your pledge card to the Food Administrator, Washington, D. C., and you will receive FREE your first instructions and a household tag to be hung in your window.

Upon receipt of ten cents with your pledge card and a return addressed envelope, the official badge of the Food Administration, and if desired, the shield insignia of the Food Administration, will also be sent you.
